IMPORTANT: Duly completed application forms may be submitted six months prior to your intended travel date. It may take an average time of 15 days to process your Schengen visa application.

Only documents in German or English are accepted - otherwise, a translation needs to be provided or the document will be ignored.

The German Embassy in Dar Es Salaam is only the competent authority should you have your permanent residence in Tanzania. Otherwise, your application will be denied and returned.

Processing time differs from case to case. Therefore, in order to avoid delay, it is advisable to apply well in advance of the actual travel dates. This will help ensuring a smooth organization of your trip.

If your travel date is imminent or lies within two weeks of your application date, please check if you can postpone your trip. In general, neither the German Mission nor the Service Provider is able to expedite the process.

Please note:

According to the Visa Code, the German Embassy Dar Es Salaam is only responsible for processing your application if your main destination is Germany.

Submission of false documentation or incorrect information will most likely result in a refusal or even a travel ban to Germany or other Schengen States.

The submission of incomplete documentation can result in a refusal.

The German Embassy Dar Es Salaam reserves the right to ask for additional documentation at any time during the processing of the application whenever deemed necessary.

Documents sent via fax or e-mail, which has not been requested, will not be allocated to an application.

All relevant information concerning the application process can be found on our website: www.daressalam.diplo.de
